

Please do not take this law away. It is very annoying to have people calling at all hours asking you to buy items or donate money. They have already called me on Sunday mornings at 745AM and it is my only day off work. I prefer getting mail and I can decide without pressure what I want to buy or what cause to donate to. When they call they can be very pressuring and sometimes tricky in the way they present things plus not all of us are rude enough to just hang up on them and have a difficult time getting them to stop their conversation.
